Dear Martin:

As we have worked together over the past few months it has occurred to me, several times, that your firm is really a class act. The first experience, of course, predated your presence at Williams Notaro. That was the build-out of the ten news bureaus belonging to EUB and various members. This was a straight forward project except that it was fast tracked and completed in record time. All parties formed a team and Williams Notaro was a key member of that team and an important contributor to its success.

More recently as we have planned a sophisticated power backup installation the careful and professional work done by you and your colleagues has provided an excellent analysis of the problems and a solid roadmap to the solution of those problems. The level of confidence this provides is of major importance to us.

Now, as we head into more bureau building, we are grateful that Williams Notero is performing the MEP planning. We know that the work will be thorough and professional and that the follow-up will be comprehensive and timely.

Thanks for all your good work! We are delighted that we have an opportunity to continue working with you.

Sincerely yours,

William W. Headline
